Dear Mr Fetzer,

Your letter of 17th February has been forwarded to us for reply.

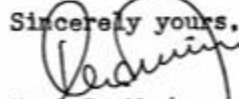

I am sorry that I cannot recognize either of the names your friends gave you. Neither name sounds particularly Egyptian, ancient or modern.

To the best of my knowledge, no work is going on at the present time adjacent to the tomb of Tutankhamon. The Brooklyn Museum, however, does have plans to excavate in the Valley of the Kings, and you might wish to contact Dr Richard Fazzini there (Brooklyn Museum, Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, N.Y. 11238).

I also suggest you might contact Dr James Harris at the University of Michigan's School of Dentistry in Ann Arbor. Dr Harris is responsible for having x-rayed the mummies of the Egyptian royalty.

Best of luck in your endeavour,

Sincerely yours,

Kent R. Weeks
